Party Tyranny. The Enquirer says Gov. Willard did right in refusing a commission to the gentleman, who, having fulfilled the requisitions of the statute, applied to be appointed a Notary Public, because he was a "Know Nothing," and because he had the unparalleled assurance once, as a freeman, seeking the utterance of free thought, to oppose some party measure in some packed caucus; and on another occasion had the hardihood to attempt to reply to a political speech of Gov. Wright. These are indeed grave offences under rule of the demagogues, who have usurped the political power of the State. Free speech and free thought are crimes as odious under the despotism of party leaders as under the oppressive rule of King Bomba in Naples. Cringing, unresisting, slavish subserviency to these petty party despots, is the only condition upon which the smallest public office is to be obtained. They have by intrigue and political legerdemain-which is their trade and vocation-and by the accidents of popular convulsions-been elected to places by small casual popular majorities; and upon this circumstance they usurp to themselves the whole power of their party; assume to speak in its name as its only oracles; and claim possession of the whole government of the State of Marion county, and he and the parents of as their legitimate possession, to be used for their personal advantage, as the rightful spoils of conquest, and doled out to their most mercenary and unscrupulous adherents. These men brought into place by party drill and a temporary popular ebulition-every one of whom would be repudiated by the party that elected them, after a " second sober thought" has come with the political carmassume to be the Democratic party, on whose vitals they have fastened themselves like leeches; and as the organs of that party and of a majority of the people, they insolently proscribe and disfranchise one half of their

Daring Mail Robbery.

The through mail for Evansville, which left Indianapolis last Friday in the mail wagon, was robbed under the following circumstances. Two young men, well known in Indianapolis and respectably connected, overtook the mail wagon about four miles from Indianapolis, and one of them getting into it slipped the Evansville mail bag out, and placing it in a buggy in which they came out, they drove into the woods, cut the bag and rifled its contents. They then filled the bag with stones and threw it into a creek near by. They were seen to do this by a person living in the vicinity and happening along at the time, who, after their departure, noticing the opened letters scattered about and suspecting the truth at once, got the bag out and returned it to the Post Office in In-

The mail boy was arrested and confessed that he was a party to the robbery, and implicated two others, Foudray and Lister, who were held to bail for their appearance at the next U. S. District Court. The Indianapolis Sentinel says:

This is one of the most daring and reckess robberies on record. It is ascertained that it was in contemplation some time pre-vious to the actual deed. Two of the persons implicated are minors, between the ages of 18 and 20; the other, Lister, is about 21 or 22. There are many speculations with regard to the matter and it is hinted by some, not only that several recent robberies and burglaries about the city will now probably be accounted for, but that older heads are concerned. The father of Foudray is sheriff Lister, and the widowed mother of Haverson, who also resides here, are plunged into the deepest grief because of the proved if not confessed crime of these young delinquents.

THE VALUE OF A NEWSPAPER. -- A farmer friend of ours was in the Sanctum yesterday and told us that by neglecting to take his Journal from the Post Office on the day of its arrival, he had lost fifty dollars. A few weeks since he had two hundred bushels of corn to dispose of, and the day after the Weekly Journal arrived at his Post Office, a speculator came along and bought his corn for fifty cents a bushel. On receivign and opening his paper he found that corn was quoted in Evansville at eighty cents; and that the price was advancing. The speculator sold the corn a few days after for ninety cents. Every farmer who expects to keep up with the times and wants the highest marprices of produce at home.
